Library Lounge 1st floor

The selection lets you feel the spirit and history of hospitality developed uniquely at Shiba Park Hotel.

“Shiba” was passed down from Edo to Tokyo, then to the modern Tokyo. Important things have been passed down through generations. We prepared bookshelves that do not fade even after all the years.

Central staircase 1st-2nd floor

In the Edo period, it was the place where the school dormitory of Zoujoji was located, and while inheriting the feelings (DNA) of the land and valuing "universal beauty", we will create a better and more prosperous future that is modern and sustainable. It is a space that expresses the "past," "present," and "future." There is a large bookshelf with a height of about 7m installed around the stairs that go up from the first floor to the banquet floor. You can also pick up a book while climbing the stairs.

Foyer -Book & Culture- 2nd floor

You can learn about the city, history and historical background, and you can see the time from Shiba Park Hotel was born to the present time. We have selected books that will give you hints for thinking about the direction you should take from now on, based on the past and present.

Sustainable Japanese Traditional Culture Experience

Shiba Park Hotel is also a library hotel with a diverse collection of books. We hold an exhibition called “Tale of Artisans” which tell stories of traditions (tales) that they have developed and nurtured. The exhibition has different themes for each season and it has a focus on Japanese culture and is displayed with books. The “Sustainable Japanese traditional culture experience” is an opportunity to experience traditional crafts and culture that have been nurtured by the bounty of nature and carefully passed down from generation to generation at Shiba Park Hotel. We sincerely welcome our guests to experience such a sustainable experience, where history and culture are passed down through the ages and lead to a better and richer tomorrow.

Using Shiba Park Hotel as a platform, we will provide a place to experience “learning,” “passing on,” and “preserving” Japanese traditional culture from generation to generation, there by connecting the traditional culture that has been carefully handed down to the future.

Tale of Artisans

We hold an exhibition called “Tale of Artisans” which tell stories of traditions (tales) that they have developed and nurtured. The exhibition has different themes for each season and it has a focus on Japanese culture and is displayed with books. Since ancient times, Japan has been a country rich in nature and rich in changes. In Japan, you can feel the changes of the four seasons are naturally and sensitively reflected in various places including the changing natural scenery, plants, festivals, traditional crafts, and traditional culture. Japanese people have come to appreciate the beauty, enjoyment, and harshness of the changing seasons, as well as respect the blessings of nature. In addition to the traditional crafts and culture nurtured by nature's bounty, we also bring you the characteristics and attractions of traditional events that have been carefully passed down from generation to generation throughout Japan.

We welcome our guests from our heart with Japanese warm hospitality for all four seasons so that our guests can have such a sustainable experience that "history and culture are spun through the ages, leading to a better and richer tomorrow.”
